Although the Union voters in the town of Norwich made a clean sweep at the poils fifty years ago, the vote was very light and the election more quiet than was anticipated, there being very few contests. Following the closing of the polls, town meeting was held when other officers were appointed.

The inhabitants of the town after a period of peacefulness from the terror of burglars were aroused to find that several houses were ransacked and one local tailor had his pocket picked on Main street.

Gleagings from the Bulletin files of 66 follow:

Oct 1, 1866.—After a long season on immunity from their visits, our city has received the attention of burglars, who have commenced their operations so successfully that it behooves our citizens to keep a sharp lookout, or they might wake up and find themselves robbed in the more. inson, principal of the Academy, was entered Friday night through a window. Saturday night the residence of Isaac Jones of Broadway was entered through a back window which was forced opened by a jimmy. A pocketbook with $237 in it was taken. The third baseball game between the Charter Oak club of Hartford and the Chester club of this city for the championship of Connecticut, was played in New Haven on Saturday afternoon which resulted in the former winning by the score of 39 to 22.
